The security market to-day was very dull, and, taking the day's business as an entirety, was weak. Prices opened at about where they closed last night, spurted up a little bit at midday, but thereafter sagged off dispiritedly. The indications that an extra session of Congress will be called in the fall for the purpose, primarily, of taking action on the Cuban reciprocity treaty were considered as cheering in a stock market sense, for it was held that at this extra session needed financial legislation would also be pressed, or that at least an opportunity would be afforded for pass-Vermilye & Co.; ing desired enactments of this character if they were found necessary. However, there will be objection to an extra session of Congress for various political reasons, and the calling of Congress in the fall can hardly be said to be assured. The only stocks that could properly be said to be strong in the day's trading were the Reading shares. Rumors circulated that the road's statement of earnings for February, soon to be made public, would make an extremely good showing. On the other hand there were plain indications of liquidation in Amalgamated Copper of a more serious character than have been seen since the recent upward movement in the stock began. ne reason attributed for this was the large fall in the price of copper metal in London. The speculation for the rise in Amalgamated Copper has, however, considerably depended upon the prevalence of a belief, which, although it was absurd on its face, has yet been held most tenaciously by many persons, that the differences between contending copper-produc ing interests in Montana were about to be compromised by the making of large concessions by the Amalgamated people. The news this morning of a practical windup of the syndicate which has unsuccessfully endeavored to "float" the stock of Heinze's United Copper Company should, and evidently did, go far toward disabusing Wall Street, at last, of this The news late in the afternoon that a temporary injunction had been granted in the United States Circuit Court in Kentucky, restraining, until a further hearing in the case, the Union Pacific directorate from voting the shares of Southern Pacific stock controlled by it, was not unexpected, for the issuance of the writ was largely a matter of form. The impression is gaining ground, however, that the difficulty concerning Southern Pacific is not a slight affair. Rates for the use of call money rose shortly before the close of business to 8 per cent. It is said that the fact was due to the calling of loans preparatory to the payment on Monday of the quarterly dividends, amounting to $21,500,000, of the Standard Oil and Consolidated Gas Companies. Preliminary estimates of to-morrow's bank statement are that the banks have sustained a net loss during the week of slightly over $3,600,000. $5,374,500 was absorbed by the Sub-Treasury on various accounts. The net balance in favor of the local banks in their transactions with the interior institutions is calculated at $472,000. or about the same as last week. As the banks also gained $1,268,500 in receipts of new gold, their total cash loss is supposedly reduced to the sum stated. Various statements of more or less importance of railway earnings were received during the day, the most notable being the Southern Pacific's report of a loss of $145,755 gross and $414,911 net for January.

THE OUTSIDE MARKET.

THE GUTSIBE MARKET.

The course of prices in outside securities to-day followed closely those which have characterized the market more or less during the past west. Dalings, however, iell off considerably. At no time was there activity enough to attract any special attention. Price movements in the early trading showed some improvement over the last final, although the demand during the first two hours was exceedingly light. The copper shares continued to command attention, further fractional gains being scored in a majority of the Issues. In the late afternoon, however, on the announcement of an easier tone in the metal markets, prices with one or two exceptions sold off.

Northern securities led the market in strength in the closing hours of yesterday, but commanded scarcely any attention in to-day's dealings. Opening sales were made at about 1/2 being the the preferred advanced nearly 2 per cent. 1075/2, but in the final dealings lost nearly all the advance. American Can shares received better support: the common gained 3/4, while the preferred advanced nearly 2 per cent. Standard Oil advanced nearly 2 per cent. Standard Oil advanced nearly 2 per cent. Standard Oil advanced nearly 2 per cent. In bonds United States Steel 5s continued under pressure, and, while showing railies at times, finally enued 3/5 per cent. to 1744/5.

In bonds United States Steel 5s continued under pressure, and, while showing railies at times, finally enued 3/5 per cent. below the previous close. On the other hand, Lackawanna Steel 5s rose 3/5 per cent. on comparatively light tracing.
